Everybody has a story. But Stephanie E. Wilson-Coleman’s life narrative is a testament that anyone can have a story worth telling.

Like every hero, Stephanie Wilson-Coleman, the “straight no chaser” Empowerment Doctor, was born out of necessity. Her story is filled with conflict, villains, roadblocks, moral dilemmas and spiritual awakenings.

Stephanie’s story began in Little Rock, Arkansas, where she graduated at the top of her class at the historic Little Rock Central High School. This she managed to do despite becoming a mother at 15, experiencing sexual abuse and molestation and attending high school in the midst of intense racial tension. She beat the odds. Several years ago, an accident caused Stephanie to suffer a basal skull fracture from which the doctors predicted she would not recover. She beat the odds. After recovering from the basal skull fracture, Stephanie, a victim of corporate downsizing, was left in financial ruin, which resulted in being temporarily homeless. Again, she beat the odds.

The same drive that led her to complete high school with honors, led Stephanie to earn her bachelor’s degree from the University of Arkansas and cinch an MBA from the University of Chicago’s Executive MBA program. She even studied economics and finance in Singapore and Barcelona, Spain which created a desire to travel the world and experience other cultures. Since then, Stephanie has visited over ten countries.

Today, through the organization she founded, The Champagne Connection, Inc., Stephanie, an ordained Minister, Success Mindset Mentor & Transformational Specialist, and Pranic Healing Enthusiast has the uncanny ability to help others transform emotional and mental obstacles into stepping stones to living their dreams. She has an insatiable appetite for helping others re-think the impossible. A few minutes with Stephanie is intoxicating. She effortlessly mesmerizes audiences and inspires them from laughter to tears and back again. Whether she is engaging a small audience, doing one-on-one mentoring/counseling, speaking to a large conference, or presenting before a pulpit, everyone will experience a breakthrough.

Her superpower: Transforming Lives. With her guidance, teeth-rattling soul-shaking experiences vaporize at her command.

Exhorting others to “live the life you imagine,” The Champagne Connection helps others talk about, identify, and work to resolve the difficult, emotional, and often painful behavior and actions that affect their financial health and the financial health of their families. By uncovering the memories that are keeping others chained to old, worn out stories of failure, Stephanie, who is sometimes called the “Straight No-Chaser Motivator,” is able to help others embrace the change required to change their lives.

Stephanie shares an inspirational and life-changing message through her company’s workshops, seminars, books, CDs, videos, and other speaking engagements. As a Transformational Specialist, she has given people the tools needed to not only live their dreams and finally start “that business,” but to also lead movements in their cities that have dramatically changed the lives of others.

One of Stephanie’s core principles is to be of service to others. The businesses Stephanie has coached have not only changed the lives of others but have also increased their revenues by as much as 150%. If you’re on the brink of disaster, Stephanie is the lifeline you should reach out for.

Driven by the beliefs that every day is a miracle and that stamina, discipline, and strength are necessary companions, Stephanie facilitates an annual Ignite Your Inner Millionaire conference designed to help others change their Mindset in order to achieve success. The seminar discusses topics critical to those whose dreams have been deferred by the mountains in their lives; e.g. poverty, abuse, teenage parents, etc., but still they have a strong desire to achieve something great in their lifetime.

In addition to earning the MBA from the University of Chicago (EMBA), Stephanie earned her Ph.D., specializing in Holistic Life Coaching from the University of Sedona, and received her bachelor’s and master’s degrees in Metaphysical Science from the University of Metaphysics. She is also an ordained Metaphysical Minister, having received her ordination and practitioner diploma from the International Metaphysical Ministry University Seminary.

Stephanie has also received the Diamond Spirit Award in 2014, the Crescent Moon Award and the Minnie Riperton Humanitarian Award in 2013, the Dyvine Destiny Phenomenal Woman Award in 2012, the Chicago Defender’s Women of Excellence Award and The Verizon Hometown Heroes Award in 2011, and The Black Pearl Award in 2005 for her outstanding contributions to the community. She is actively involved with homeless shelters, at-risk youth, teenage mothers, and victims of domestic violence.

Stephanie wants the world to know: We can’t always control how our story starts, but we can write ourselves a better ending. Life’s too short to drink cheap champagne.
